Special Information for Judges on 4-H Visual Presentations

Definition

A visual presentation is a teaching method used by 4-H'ers to communicate ideas with the assistance of visual aids, such as posters, charts, flash cards, models, photographs, or actual objects. A visual presentation includes demonstrations and illustrated talks.

Purpose

The visual presentation contest, like all 4-H activities, emphasizes youth development through a learn-by-doing experience. 4-H'ers learn to research a subject, arrange their findings to teach an idea in a logical manner, and prepare and use visual aids in teaching. 4-H members gain confidence by speaking before a group and self-discipline as they compete with themselves to reach the standard outlined on the visual presentation score sheet.

How to Judge

- Help contestants feel comfortable by creating a warm, friendly learning climate.
- Give priority to the 4-H'er and the way he or she presents the information.
- You may ask a question to help contestants clarify points covered in the presentation. (Only official judges should ask questions during a contest.) If one contestant is questioned, then each contestant should have at least one question.
- In the event of a tie for first, second, or third place, the score made on the "Presentation Section" will be used to break the tie. If a tie still persists, the contestants will make a second presentation.
- Penalize 5 points if the visual presentation exceeds 10 minutes.
- Each item has a maximum value of 5 points. Perfect score is 100.
- Rank contestants as 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and so on.
